Administered Scholarships

BAYLEYS PROPERTY SCHOLARSHIP 2008

Mike Bayley has announced that Bradley Tokomikahere-Layton, studying a conjoint Bachelor of Property and Valuation at the University of Auckland is this year's recipient of the Bayleys Property Scholarship. Multi-talented, Bradley also recently won the Best Heritage Photo in the RICS International "Picturing the Built Environment" photography competition in 2007. He has been elected to the executive position of 2008 Welfare Officer of the Auckland University Student Association and is responsible for administering financial assistance and emergency food bank supplies to students.

Bradley's industry ambitions are to become more knowledgeable about the property industry and equip himself with the necessary skills to become a property professional, eventually transitioning towards development. The Trust wishes Bradley every success for the coming years and thanks Bayleys for its support via this scholarship.

The Bayleys 2007 recipient, Carl Thompson, will this year complete his Property degree at University of Auckland. 2006 recipient Simone Browne graduated last year and has spent the last year working at Pragmatrix Ltd in Auckland.

MULTIPLEX CONSTRUCTION SCHOLARSHIP 2008

Dan Ashby, CEO Multiplex Construction, decided in 2005 to award Tamati Parker (a previous Keystone Trust recipient from Gisborne) the Keystone Multiplex Construction Scholarship for the following three years. This enables Tamati to complete his Bachelor of Construction Economics at UNITEC in Auckland.

Tamati has been an outstanding student at UNITEC, recognized in 2007 by the New Zealand Institute of Building and UNITEC for his success. He joined his Multiplex colleagues at the NZIOB Northern Chapter dinner at Ellerslie in May last year and in typical Tamati fashion, did not tell anyone that he was to receive Best Academic Performance for Second Year including Research 7813, Bachelor of Construction, Unitec. It was a great surprise for those at the Multiplex table when Tamati received his award from the Leader of the Opposition, John Key. Dan also supports Tamati with the provision of work with Multiplex throughout the duration of his study. Tamati is presently working with the Multiplex team as an assistant QS on 80 Queen Street and is leader of the Multiplex Graduate programme.

HELP! HELP! HELP!

Rotorua and Wellington

Students of the Trust desperately need mentors in Wellington and Rotorua. We have Architect students in both cities who require both semester break work and work throughout the year whilst at University.

Auckland

In Auckland we have six new Keystone Students who require mentors. Two of these students are studying Engineering, two are studying architecture, one is studying a B.Pro-LLB and one a Bch. Construction at Unitec.

This can be an extremely rewarding relationship for both parties if you are prepared to commit yourself to assist in the development of a student. If you can assist in 2008 in any way, or wish to receive further information, please contact one of our Trustees or Alison Smith.
